Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Teaching of German in Secondary Schools Some definite work has already been done in the United States towards putting modern language instruction upon a better basis as regards aim and method; for example, Reform the report1 presented by the Committee of Movement Twelve, at the session of the Modern Lan 1 U s. A guage Association held in Charlottesville, Va., in 1898. It is an attempt, by way of recommendation, to bring about some degree Of harmony in the rather chaotic conditions that naturally exist in a nation so educationally decentralized as our own. Though brief, the report is com prehensive and practical, and deserves the careful study of every modern language teacher. After dealing with the aim and value Of modern languages as a culture study, there follows a brief sketch and critique of some of the well-known systems or methods. The report then seeks to build up, from this preliminary discussion, a course more or less eclectic in method, to suit our conditions. Very valuable are the suggestions given to teachers, and everywhere the report is characterized by a wise conservatism, so desirable in the present status of modern language work in the United States.
