Extrait: . . . is a fire, nor let them, at any time, play with fire. Never take a lighted candle, without a lantern, into a stable; or venture into a hayloft, even with a lantern. Leaving chimneys too long unswept; making too great a blaze in a fire-place; letting a candle or lamp burn, or a poker remain in the fire, when there is no person in the room; and carrying about the house a candle with a long snuff; should be carefully avoided: as should also every thing else that is at all likely to occasion any mischief by fire. In going about the house at night, especially to bed, when any light is necessary, it is proper to use a small lantern; or a short candle, or a lamp, in a large flat candlestick, with snuffers, and an extinguisher. By the laws of our land, every servant, through whose carelessness or negligence, a house, or an out-house, is set on fire, is liable to a penalty of one hundred pounds; and, if it be not immediately paid, to be sent to the house of correction, for eighteen months, and there kept to hard labour. Be not eye-servants. Take no advantage of the absence of your masters and mistresses, or of their want of attention, to neglect their business; to disobey their orders, in any respect; or to waste, or, any way, wilfully abuse their property. --Be conscientious even in little matters. Never...
